Will Wed June 19.

On Wednesday afternoon, June 19, Rev. B. Marvin Harris who conducted a union revival in the city last Spring will wed Miss Laura V. Patton, of Paducah, Mo.

The bride-elect is the only daughter of Col. J. H. Patton, and is one of the sweetest young women in Missouri. She is highly educated, has traveled extensively and is a very fine musician.

Most of our readers know "Bro. Harris," and those who do, love and admire him. Harris is a native Missourian. His father is a Virginian, his mother a Kentuckian. He began preaching when he was fifteen years of age—being known for years as the "boy preacher." During his career he has preached in every state in the Union and province of Canada. Though he devotes himself constantly to his calling, he controls quite a volume of business and is well known in financial and educational circles. There are many things we could say about Harris—all good, too—but lack of space forbids.

The wedding is to be a very quiet affair—no cards being sent out. Dr. Palmer, editor of the St. Louis Christian Advocate, and Rev. J. M. Boon, formerly of Sturgeon, Mo., will perform the ceremony. Immediately after the marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Harris will leave for New York, thence to Europe.

The Courier joins the many friends of Mr. Harris in extending congratulations, and assure him the "itching string is always a-hanging out."

Sensation at Fulton.

Excitement has prevailed in Fulton this week. Rev. Frank G. Hawley, a former minister of that place, upon his arrival in the city at midnight, Tuesday, was met by Mr. W. Meadows and a score of his friends, who proceeded with him to the business street of the town, and administered to him a liberal dose of raw-bitten tea, and was then taken to Pierce, Tenn., and ordered to stay away forever. The minister, it is alleged, (and he admits his guilt) was the cause of the divorce proceeding being filed against Mr. Meadows by his wife recently. He admits that he had alienated the affections of Mrs. Meadows, and said that he deserved to be hung rather than horsewhipped. The sympathy of the community is in favor of Mr. Meadows and his act is generally commended.

—Gasoline at the Courier Office.

The word "thousand" on the new $1,000 certificate is said to be misapplied. We hadn't noticed it.

In these closing school days thousands might do well to remember that a diploma means an insurance policy against failure.

Mrs. John Sandling one of the esteemed women of Union City, died Sunday evening and was buried Monday. Mrs. Sandling has been in ill health for several years. She leaves a husband and two daughters.

The monthly rural delivery statement shows that there were 670 rural routes in Kentucky on June 1, as compared with 639 on June 30, 1906. Forty seven petitions for routes are pending, 1,252 having been referred and 525 reported on adversely.

We detect a negative character—these silent figures in a restless, bustling world. We despise the sort that is content with the mummy life. Somehow we like the man that does something and does it wrong, far more than we do the fellow who does nothing for the fear that he will do something wrong. Start something! There's a tonic in a dare. Scare somebody—antagonize somebody. Who cares?

Are Hickman's Guests

Memphis Conference W. F. M. S. Holding Interesting Session Here. Many Visitors Present.

Tuesday afternoon's train brought to our city about 150 people—officers, delegates and visitors to the annual meeting of the Memphis District Women's Foreign Missionary Society, which is being held at the Court house. A more clever set of folks have never been within our city's gates.

The meeting was opened by Dr. Lewis Powell, of Memphis, Tuesday night with the Annual Session, which time the association has been busy with the regular order of business. The program is a very interesting one, and many of our citizens are attending the three daily sessions.

Naturally, the work is along the line of foreign missions. Reports and discussions of this subject prove that it is one of the most important branches of church work.

Delegates and visitors are being entertained in the homes of our hospitable citizens and true Southern hospitality is being practically demonstrated.

Wednesday night Hunziker's Band serenaded the visiting delegates, and the music was highly appreciated.

Following we give a list of the delegates:

At Graves' School House, Sunday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, The Law and the Gospel will be contrasted by F. H. Vernor. Text: Colossians 2:14. This is a very interesting subject and will doubtless be a treat to some.

An examination of applicants for appointments to State College will be held at the Court House, Friday and Saturday, June 21st and 22nd.

Also an examination for State and County Certificates will be held at the same time and at the same place. DORA M. SMITH, CO. SUPT.

Facilities Inadequate.

It was doubtless true that the audience assembled at the Court House to witness the Commencement Exercises, last week, at about the time of the year, the facilities were inadequate.

While the closing exercises were being held, the audience was crowded into the Court House, and the facilities were inadequate.

Without analyzing the proposition, a man of sense would stop and consider the chance of her essay, as the author's thought was to be a serious one.

Dr. L. P. Baitter, Ferd Berendes, R. B. Goadler, Tom Dillon, Jr., and W. C. Johnson enjoyed a day's outing at Lower Floating Bridge, Wednesday.

Miss Mildred Ramage, of this city, will graduate from Nazareth Academy, at Nazareth, Ky., on June 20th. Mildred has been elected as a teacher in the Hickman College for the ensuing year.

Chas. E. Keiser and Miss Dem Bransford were quietly married Wednesday night at the residence of the bride's mother in Union City by Rev. H. B. Johnson of the Methodist church. The marriage was a very quiet affair, none but near relatives and friends being present.

We have several correspondents on our books that should send us a letter every week, but to look at the Courier we would think that we did not have but one or two. Some of our correspondents are good ones, sending in newsworthy letters often, but there are others that do not average one a month. Now we want every neighborhood in the county to be represented in our columns and such would be the case if every correspondent would do his or her part.

We furnish stamps and stationery free. If you have not been doing your part in the past, won't you try to do better in the future? Let us know if you need stamps or stationery.

These buds of promise, set out in our midst, and against the environment of these young men, will only satisfy these young men in our city's welfare, in the future.

But what of the present? The environment of these young men, who are to grace any like function, will only satisfy these young men in our city's welfare, in the future.

Roney & Smith, attorneys for Alice Caldwell vs. Western Union Telegraph Co. received notice this week that the Court of Appeals had sustained the decision of the Fulton Circuit Court awarding plaintiff damages for delay in transmission of message, notifying her of the death of her brother. It seems from the evidence that a message had been sent in due time to the plaintiff concerning the death of her brother at Newark, Ark., but the message failed to reach her and burial was made at Newark, whereas had she received the word different arrangements would have been made for interment. Hence, the verdict.
